Pairings

In 2025, racing pairings will be determined by a chip draw at the start of each round. As competitors drive into the staging lanes, an official will have each racer select a chip. They will then be paired with the competitor who selects the corresponding chip.

Racing Format

All brackets will run in elimination format.

Archer's Smash Street Series Points

Points for all brackets are earned on the basis of five points for each race that you win. As well, five bonus points are awarded for entering an event, provided you do at least one run in the eliminations. Points updates are available on our website site.

Head Hunter Points

Once the first race meeting is complete and points are awarded to all podium finishers, the top three competitors in the standings officially become the HUNTED!

At the next event, these top three will carry a bounty:

- 1st in points = 3 bounty points
- 2nd in points = 2 bounty points
- 3rd in points = 1 bounty point

UPDATE 24/7/25

Points Tie

- If 3 racers are tied for 1st: All three are "the hunted" and worth 3 bonus points each.
- If 2 racers are tied for 2nd: Both are "the hunted" and worth 2 bonus points each. The next racer in points is considered 4th and not eligible for bonus status.
- If multiple racers are tied for 3rd: They are "the hunted" and worth 1 bonus point each. The positions above them are still eligible for higher bonus points if they are not tied.

If a competitor outside the top three wins a race against a Hunted Competitor, they will earn that competitor's bounty points. Defeat all three? You walk away with the full 6 bonus points! No bye runs would gain Head Hunter bonus points, and this would include if a top point scorer has broken and due to run against that competitor. No advantage to be taken in a broken competitor.

Championship Shootout

- NewSkool and Oldskool Street will have Top 8 for the final
- Powder Puff and Street Bike will have the Top 8 for the final
